- Your in contact with other people helping them to help themselves.

No

- dealing with nothing additional
- do feel part
- it just doesn't cross match
- not big issue
- not doing anything special
- people you help are ungrateful- also many of the people you help are not part of the community themselves- a lot of those I am involved with do not fit into the community.
- was personal objective

Q22 How long does it take you to travel to the place you undertake your voluntary work? If more than one activity then ask how long it takes for the furthest away.

Other:

- d/k
- gets you more active
- gives you experience in volunteering
- good feeling of safety
- I like one to one better
- If I get made redundant and had time- yes
- In some cases volunteers are needed for helping where societies can't afford paid help.
- It's safer
- It would be good to have everyone I cared for working together
- it would be more flexible
- just finished doing voluntary work
- like family structure
- maybe in near future if required
- might but some people in public not nice to you a bit put off
- might with housing association
- my family and friends are busy with other things
- my interest different
- not sure
- On sick this would cut my money
- perhaps easier - my English is not good
- some of my friends want to do medicine as well
- the bigger the group the better
- the more you know the better
- there's a lack of community resources
- with wife if outside
- would be good to see my friends helping others
- would if others interested

Other:

- a bad world if we didn't help one another if we can
- Been in a situation need help
- can see the benefits
- Depends on area. All volunteers needed for the homeless.
- depends on the person
- doesn't do any harm
- doesn't take much to help somebody
- Everybody gets something they need done for them
- for organisation work accomplished important to pull together with no benefit
- gets things done quicker
- gives younger people role models
- has it's place
- Have done work in hospital and special need children great to see volunteers did extra with work.
- I'd help anyone but not young anymore
- I am a nurse
- i think it does
- if no one to help out- some people get nothing
- It's pretty general but you do contribute something
- It gets a broader social spectrum involved
- it teaches people to look after each other
- Less poverty nowadays
- Like old days
- Lots people know there is help out there.
- makes or does good
- More people not being selfish
- mostly denny to offender
- no help if not there
- they do marvellous work
- think the country would
- too many selfish people
- we work with the people all positive
- without doubt
- you can take part in activities that wouldn't normally happen
- you treat people the way they should be with respect and time

Neither agree nor disagree	can't comment never involved
	Depends in what area depends what the voluntary work consists of if it would make a difference don't know- enough about it
	don't know
	I don't bother with things
	It's important council doesn't provide everything many people in areas such as this expect everything from others and will never improve their own lives- some laugh at those of us who give up time as although they accept all that is offered they themselves would do nothing for nothing.
	not been involved dk
	not being paid
would like to say it did but I worked with kids and if didn't help them they all ended up on drugs or drink- their environment made if hard for them to change
Disagree	don't think it helps people- people need paid work no it's just saves money for organisations
Strongly disagree	it's just cheap labour
Don't know/not sure	can't say as not done it don't have much knowledge about volunteering don't know- pros and cons- not sure if you want to do it fine but people should be paid to do a job
	don't know (4)
	don't know much about it
	don't really know
	never done it/ ok
people don't care anymore, young ones just take take take really don't know (no answer) sometimes people are busy bodies/they help others but want to know your business
