Tramway entrance

Tramway 1 is normally associated with large scale performing arts projects. It is a flexible space capable of meeting the needs of the most demanding projects and ambitious ideas through its ability to adapt and change from event to event. It has a standard capacity of 600 seats of which 378 are flexible and can be set in a variety of configurations. The remaining 222 seats form a fixed balcony overlooking the main performing area.

Tramway 2 is the principal exhibition space and one of the largest single galleries in Europe. The original tramlines, steel pillars and the sheer scale of this space make it one of the most impressive visual arts spaces in Europe.

Tramway 4 is a studio theatre with flexible seating for up to 90 people.

Tramway 5 is an exhibition space that can accommodate up to 60 people.

The Studio offers a more traditional setting and is suitable for smaller board meetings, presentations and talks for between 4 and 40 people.

The Café is a spacious, relaxing environment offering fresh, organic produce during the day and an evening bar during performance nights.
