Welcome to the St Mungo Museum of Religious Life and Art Visual Storyboard

Glasgow
CITY COUNCIL

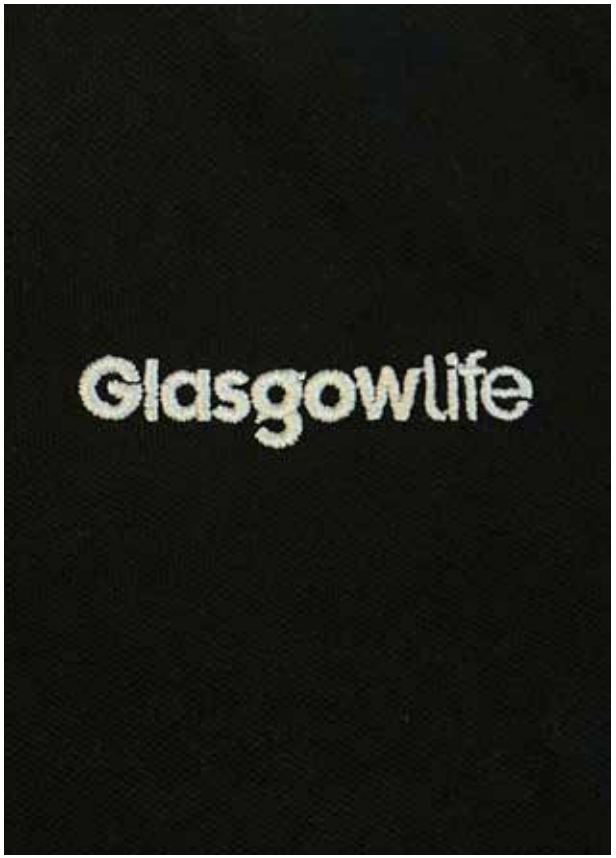

This is St Mungo Museum.

The main entrance is on Castle Street.

Come and have a look inside.
A gallery assistant can help you.

Museum staff all wear a pink or black lanyard and a black uniform. They have “museum team” written on the back of their jackets and shirts.

The accessible toilet is to your left, before the café entrance.

Café – the café is not open at the moment but you can sit in the space and enjoy your own food & drink.

Shop – our shop is run by colleagues (friends?) from Historic Environment Scotland.
You can buy a selection of gifts as well as snacks and drinks.

Straight ahead, there are two doors.
The door on the left leads to the Zen Garden outside.

To your right, there are stairs and a lift to every floor.
Screens next to the lift showing moving images and text about the museum upstairs.

Downstairs there are toilets to your left.

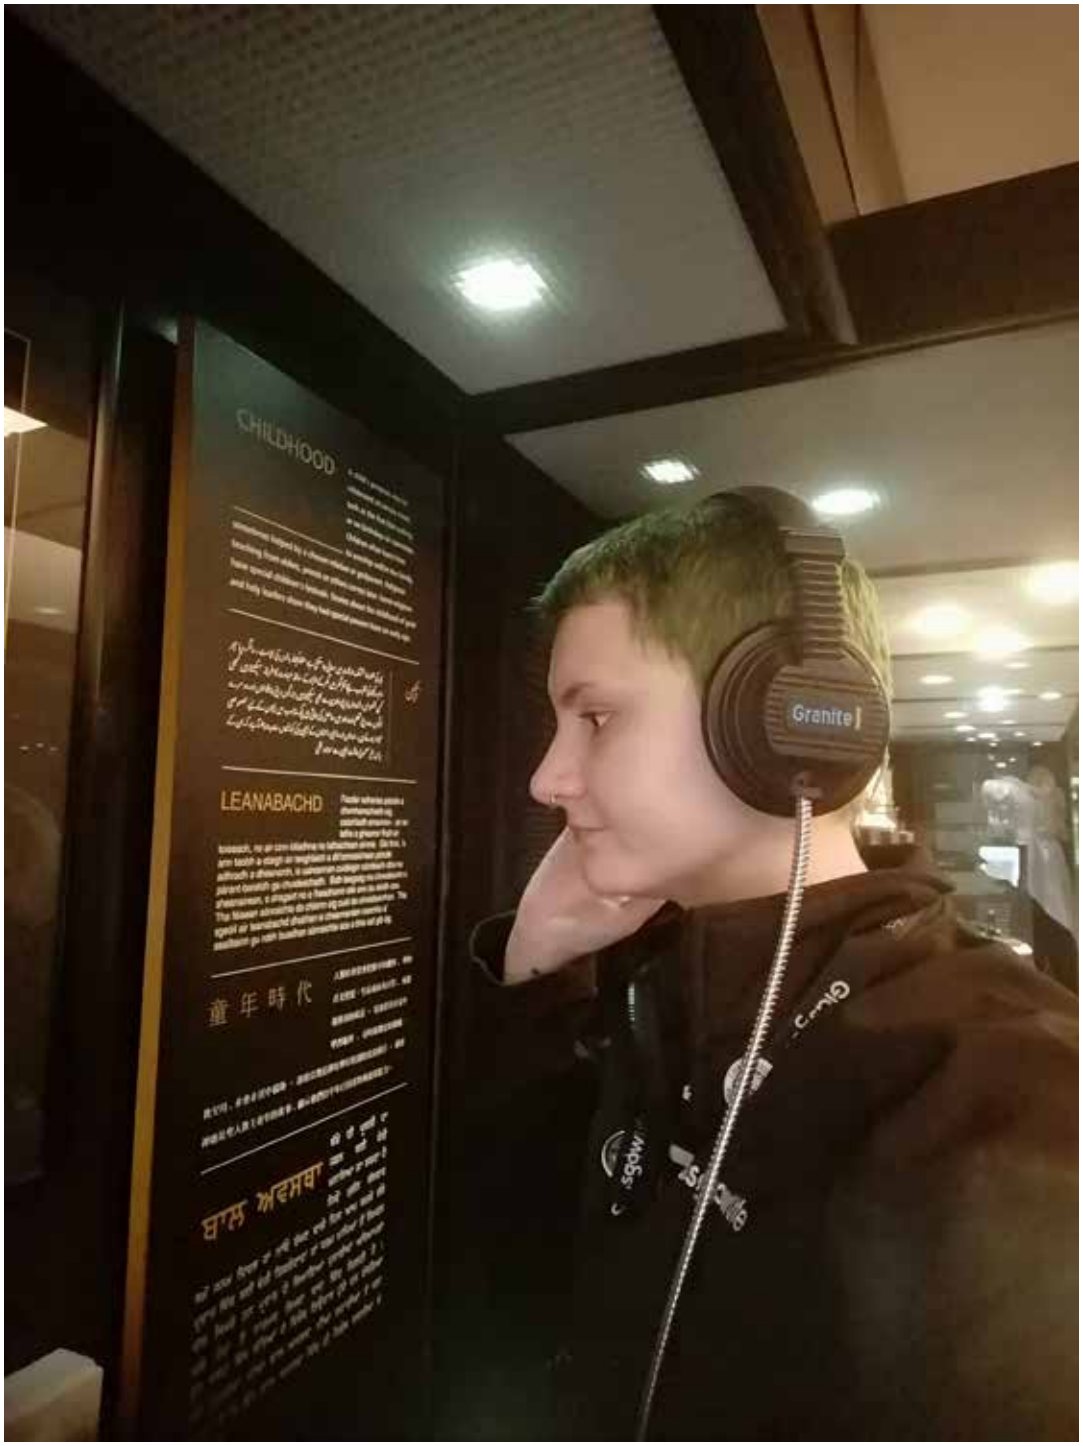

This is upstairs on the first floor. There is an information desk. A gallery assistant can help you.

This is the Gallery of Religious Art on the first floor. You can look at art on the windows, the walls, on plinths and in glass cases. The art work is fragile so do not touch.

This is the Gallery of Religious Life. This room is darker.
You can look at the objects in the glass cases. You can hear noises like drumming and singing.

You can wear the headphones and listen to people telling stories.

There are stairs up to the Exhibition Gallery.

This is the Exhibition Gallery.

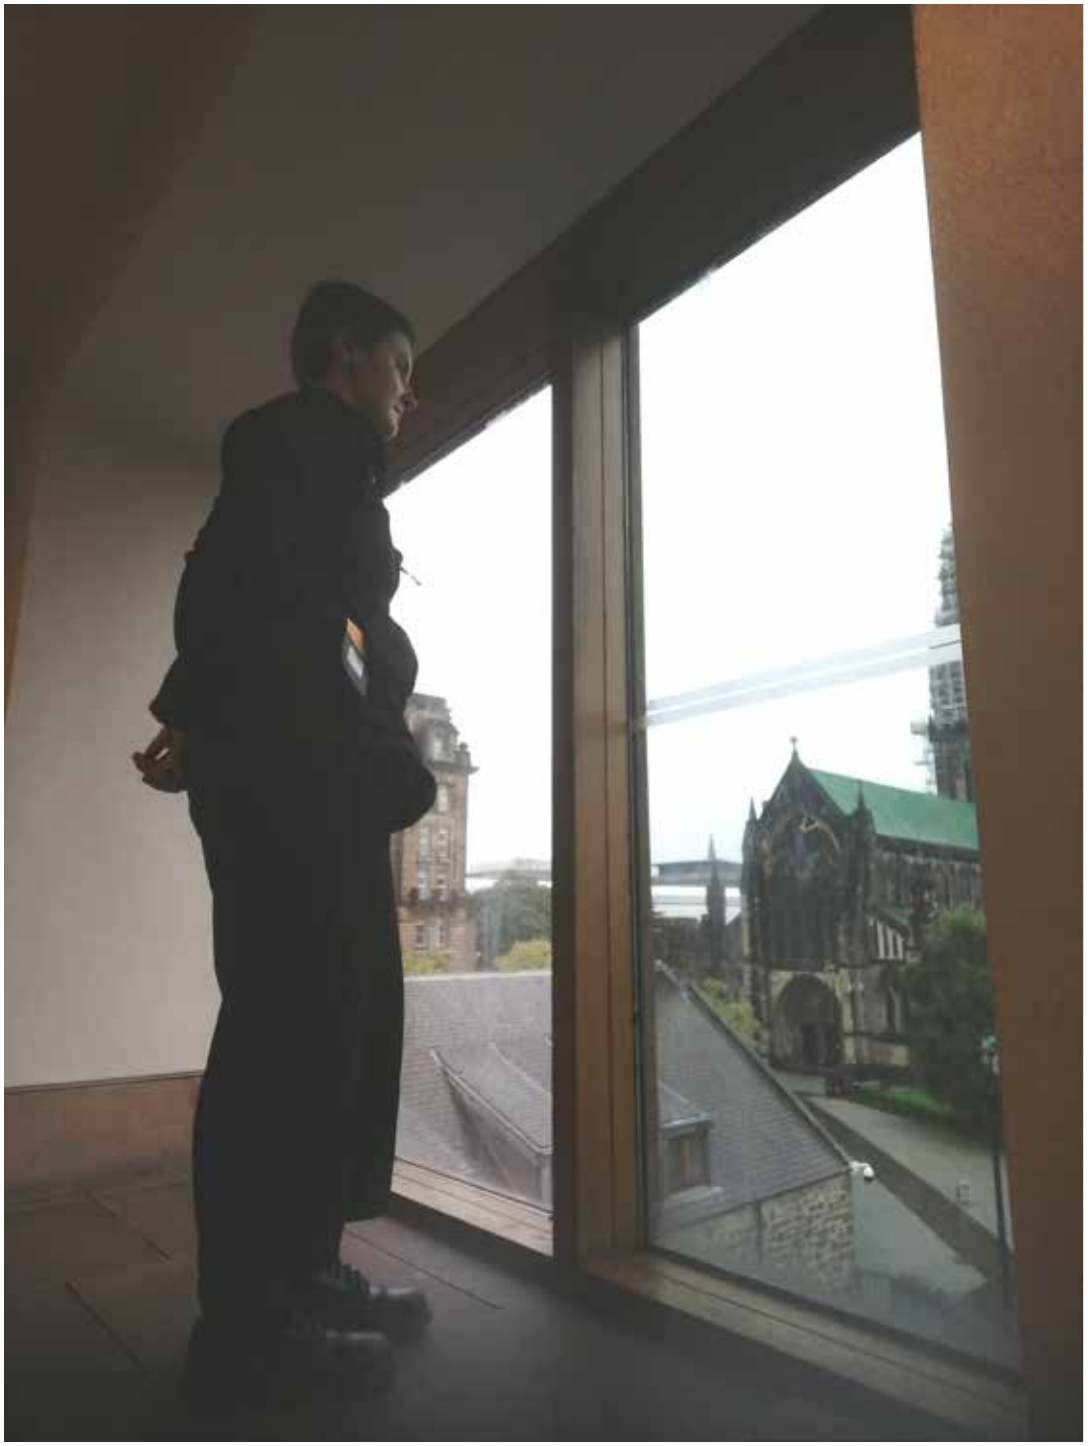

There is art on the walls and art on plinths.

The art work is fragile so do not touch.

There is a video with sound and there is music playing.

There is a full-length mirror.

This is upstairs on the third floor. There is a large window.

This is the Scottish Gallery on the third floor.
There is an art cart where children can complete activity sheets and read books.
You can use the phones to listen to stories. You can look at objects in glass cases.

This is the art cart in the Scottish Gallery.

On many weekends we have fun arts and crafts activities for families to join.
You can get more information on our website.

This is the Education room. Schools visit this space with a learning assistant.
Sometimes this space is closed.

The fire alarm makes a loud siren noise.

Museum staff will guide you out of the building through a fire exit.

Do not go back inside the building unless a member of museum staff tells you that it is safe.

This is the Donations Box. All donations are welcome.

Thank you and see you soon.

The museum is busiest during weekends and school holiday times.
