

Davis Cup Tennis – Welcome Ambassadors

The Davis Cup Tennis returned to the Emirates Area last week with a new format and 4 teams taking part in a round robin tournament over 6 days. Despite Team GB's disappointment, one team were a huge success all week long – the Glasgow Sport Volunteer Ambassadors.

Glasgow Sport recruited 90 volunteers to support the event with Wayfinding and Information for spectators as well as a friendly welcome at the entrance for ticket holders. The volunteers provided the energy and motivation at the Activation Zone where families could take part in a range of tennis related activities.

Volunteers with visitors from The Netherlands

The event ran smoothly, and the experience of the spectators was certainly richer for their interactions with the volunteers.

Spectators from across Scotland and the UK as well as visitors from the Netherlands, USA and Kazakhstan attended the event. The information and welcome provided by the volunteers helped to provide a positive experience of Glasgow.

The next big event with a volunteering programme is the Billie Jean King Cup, we will be recruiting a team soon so sign up to the Glasgow Sport Volunteering Bureau to find out more.